

Connecticut Quality Council

Instructor BIO: Michael Beauregard

Mike Beauregard is an international consultant and lecturer on the application of lean manufacturing and statistical techniques to manufacturing, warehousing, and distribution operations. He has successfully applied lean manufacturing techniques hands-on in companies ranging from 10 person start-up companies to Fortune 500 manufacturers. Mike has co-authored eighteen published books and training systems on lean manufacturing tools. He graduated from the University of Maryland in College Park in chemical engineering and has held engineering, manufacturing, and plant management positions in the discrete parts manufacturing, plastics, and chemical process industries. Mike is a registered Professional Engineer and a Certified Quality Engineer. He is a five-time member of the Board of Examiners for the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award.